

3D CHARITABLE DONATION PROGRAM FOR EXCESS IT, R&D AND LAB EQUIPMENT

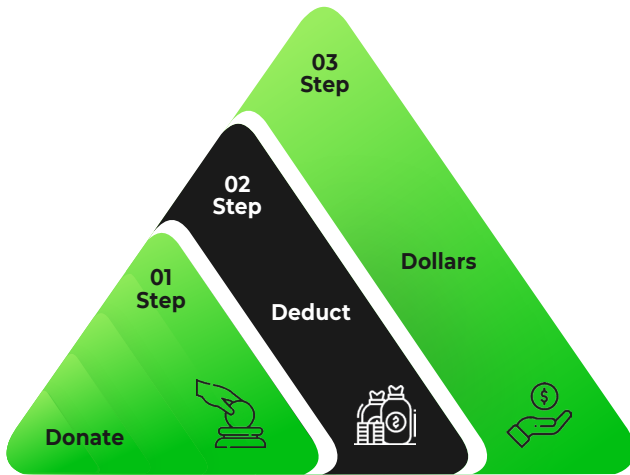

Technology can transform lives. That's first and foremost what we do at Excess Logic. We make it easy for our customers to do the right thing - for their business, for the environment, and for their local and global communities.

To support a livable and prosperous planet, Excess Logic offers a 3D Charitable Donation Program. This program assists companies with surplus IT, R&D and Lab equipment disposition needs and supports local and global non-profit organizations, causes and communities. 3D Charitable Donation Program helps maximize the benefits of charitable giving while minimizing risk and hassle to the donor.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

3D Charitable Donation Program Donate-Deduct-Dollars

OUR PROPOSAL

Step 1:
Donate

You give us a call (CONTACT EXCESS LOGIC) and tell us what you would like to dispose of and give us the name of your non-profit organization.

Step 2:
Deduct

We contact your non-profit organization, pick up your excess gear from you and start selling it for your designated non-profit. Clear, transparent reporting regarding our sales efforts is provided to both you and your chosen non-profit. Your non-profit organization will receive 50% of the net proceeds from the sale of the equipment, which is sold through our multi-channel remarketing network. All funds will be distributed on a monthly basis, providing the non-profit organization with an immediate and consistent source of new funding to further their work in their communities.

Step 3:
Dollars

Once all assets are liquidated, you may take up to 100% of fair market value as a tax-deductible donation (check with your CPA).

EVERYONE WINS!

Since 2012, Excess Logic has been providing a one-stop solution for surplus IT, R&D and Lab asset decommissioning throughout the US and Canada. We have helped more than 500 companies, including Google, Mercedes Benz, and AT&T decommission surplus electronic assets and recover maximum value. Excess Logic works with a number of non-profit partners to provide charitable donations and support to targeted recipients.

To provide 100% transparency and accountability Excess Logic conducts all sales transactions via online global marketplaces and all sales reports is available via an Excess Logic Client Portal.
